WHY STONE?

Uniqueness. Originality. Warmth. Quality, are just starting points.

Created by nature millions of years ago—inherently unique—with a one-of-a-kind intrinsic quality, that no other material can match.

Through custom fabrication, it's easier to achieve a consistency now than ever before, while also creating unique products like sinks, bowls and medallions like no other. Crafting materials from large blocks and yielding a product unique and second to none.

House of Stile helps bring the mountain to you—literally—as a result of their unique association with stone quarries located in the mountains of Mexico; the source for onyx, travertine, granite and marble of varying colors and grains, with a quality that other firms only try to achieve. House of Stile can help you make your dream a reality with stone.

TIMELESS STYLE

As we all know, stone will outlast us all. It's outlasted generations, and through the ages it has always had a style that can meet many design or approach. Gothic, Traditional, Conservative, Modern, Contemporary. Stone will hold through all of your design changes over the years, while lasting a lifetime.

What we do best...

LESS COST, LESS TIME

One of the common misperceptions about custom stone and tile solutions is they cost more than retail and takes longer to deliver than standard products. In fact, the production time for most items, from the time the design is submitted and order placed, to deliver on the job-site, is typically less than the standard six to eight weeks required for many retail products.

Stone purchased and fabricated at the source, where labor and production cost are significantly below regional rates, has similarly surprised customers with the savings that are possible. In contrast to local stone dealers, who must first purchase and have raw stone shipped to their facility, then sent to a fabricator and then send back, the efficiencies achieved through single-source purchasing and manufacturing make custom solutions extremely cost competitive.

DISCLAIMER

Stone is a product of nature. Variations in color, hue, tonality, texture and appearance are normal and expected. No two pieces of stone are alike. Photographic images cannot accurately represent the appearance of stone. Images in this catalog are of sample received at that time.
